Senator Kathleen Vinehout statement on the Governor's Special Session on Jobs

The Special Session on Jobs sounds remarkably similar to the Special Session on Jobs the Governor proposed in January.

These bills labeled 'job creation' haven't had a discernable impact on the Wisconsin economy.

As Yogi Berra once famously said, "It's is déjà vu all over again."

If we are truly going to focus on jobs we need bills that will really create jobs. Only a very few bills in this package are based on sound research that shows real job creation success.

Maybe we need a "Truth in Packaging" law that the Session can't be about jobs unless it really creates jobs.
